

I request that the FCC follow the American Radio Relay League recommendations in regard to BPL requirements. I feel that the relaxation of the rules governing BPL systems would be detrimental to the Amateur Radio Service. Will the FCC ever recognize the rights of individuals versus that of corporate interests?